

About The Steinway Society

The Steinway Society of Massachusetts is a not-for-profit organization committed to encouraging young piano students and young emerging artists, as well as fostering an appreciation of piano music among the general public. The Society provides opportunities for pianists and other musicians to meet and perform in order to further their art.

The highlight of the Society's year is our annual Piano Competition, held every spring. This high profile event is an eagerly anticipated showcase for young pianists from Massachusetts, Rhode Island, New Hampshire and Maine.

The 2013 Piano Competition will feature five divisions: Division 1 (grades 3-4), Division 2 (grades 5-6), Division 3 (grades 7-8), Division 4 (grades 9-10) and Division 5 (grades 11-12).

All divisions will compete at M. Steinert & Sons' historic Steinert Hall, 162 Boylston Street, Boston, MA.
